Fudan University
Guidebook for incoming International Students

International Students Office
2018.8
Welcome to Fudan University!

This guide was created by the Shanghai International Students Service Center (Fudan University) together with many kind and passionate international students, under the guidance of the International Students Office (ISO). It is based on the Fudan Student Guidebook (Chinese version).

The Shanghai International Students Service Center (Fudan University) is located in the South lobby of the International Students Dormitory (57 Wudong Road). The Center can be contacted via telephone at 021-55076825.

We hope that this guidebook will help new incoming international students settle down in Fudan and adapt and enjoy university life.

For any inquiries regarding this guidebook, please contact lxszhb@fudan.edu.cn.

v. Course codes that begin with “Z” indicate that classes are held in the Zhangjiang Campus;

vi. Course codes that begin with “J” indicate that classes are held in the Jiangwan Campus.
5. 汉语水平考试（Hanyu Shuiping Kaoshi, HSK）

a. The HSK is a Chinese language proficiency test for non-native Chinese speakers. It includes 6 levels (I-VI), with each level having increasing degrees of difficulty. As not all countries have HSK testing sites, it is recommended that you take the exam while you are in Fudan University if you are interested in taking the exam. The International Cultural Exchange School (ICES) in Fudan University is an authorized testing center for the HSK and is located in the Handan Campus.

b. To register for the HSK or to find out more information, please visit www.chinesetest.cn/index.do

c. You can also contact ICES for more information on the HSK test. Please visit www.ices.fudan.edu.cn/6796/list.htm or call 021-65642256.
6. Bookstores

The following is a list of bookstores in and around the Fudan campus, as well as well-known bookstores in Shanghai. You can use the 大众点评 (Dazong Dianping) app or search online for more information on bookstores.

ii. You can also buy books online through amazon.cn, jd.com, dangdang.com and other online merchants.
7. Places to Study in Fudan

a. Fudan University libraries (Handan campus)

The Fudan University libraries are ideal locations for studying. Free WiFi is available, air conditioning is provided in summer and heater is provided in winter. By studying in the library, it will also reduce the electricity bills for using the air-conditioner in your dormitory.

文科图书馆 Humanities Library

——Opening Hours (please check the library website for opening hours during summer and winter vacation):

Reading Rooms: 8:00-22:00 daily;

Humanities Library (2nd and 4th floor): Mondays to Fridays 8:00-17:00, Sunday 9:00-16:00;

—— The Humanities Library is more popular than the Science library and thus tends to be more crowded, especially during exam period.

——There are many different departments in the Humanities Library with different working hours. For more information on the working hours, please visit http://www.library.fudan.edu.cn/main.info/1363.htm

理科图书馆 Science Library

——Opening Hours (please check the library website for opening hours during summer and winter vacation):

Mondays to Sundays 8:30-22:00

——Recommended to study in the Reading Room on the first floor, as it is clean and not crowded.

b. Teaching Buildings 3 and 4

Many Fudan students like to study here at night. There are also many interesting talks and lectures held at the 1st floor of Teaching Building 3. Some of classrooms are open throughout the night for students who wish to study overnight.

c. Teaching buildings 5 and 6

After some exquisite decoration, the Teaching buildings 5 and 6 had been upgraded, equipped with the perfect intellectual education system and other facilities. The clean and bright classroom has become a good place for Fudan students to study by themselves.
II. Navigation

With the huge Fudan campus, new students may need some time to familiarize yourselves with the campus. The following pictures may help you to navigate your way through the Fudan campus.

International Students Office (ISO)

The ISO is the department in-charge of international student affairs. If you have any issues during registration or during the semester, you may approach ISO.

International Students Dormitory

This is the on-campus accommodation for international students. The International Students Dormitory consists of the main building, 9 supplementary buildings and 4 Asian Youth Center buildings. The Shanghai International Students Service Center is located on the 1st floor (south lobby) of the main building.

Guanghua Building

Officially opened in 2005, the Guanghua Building is an iconic landmark commemorating the 100th year anniversary of Fudan University. There are 32 floors in total and consists of the East Sub-building, East Main Building, West Main Building and West Sub-building. There is also a Student Square (学生广场) on the 1st floor, where student activities are often held. The building has classrooms, offices, meeting rooms and auditoriums etc.
School of Journalism
The School of Journalism is located opposite the East Gate of the Handan Campus. It is the oldest journalism education institute in China.

School of Economics
The School of Economics has a Fanhai Building, which is used for offices, meetings and lectures. The College also houses the Teaching Building 5 and 6, as well as the South canteen.

Security Department
The security department is located north of the International Students Office. There is also a lost and found corner here.

Humanities Library
Many students study in the Humanities Library. It is near the Center for American Studies, Humanities Building and School of Management.

Science Library
The Science Library is located diagonally across from the International Students Office.
Main Dining Hall (Danyuan)

The Main Dining Hall is located near the East Gate and you can get Chinese food for breakfast, lunch, dinner and supper. It contains a halal canteen, bakery store, western canteen and staff canteen.

North Dining Hall

The North Dining Hall is located within the North campus, near the International Students Office. It offers a variety of dishes. At the west end of the dining hall, the halal canteen and western canteen are located on the 2nd and 1st floors respectively.

School of Management

The School of Management has 2 buildings, including the Li Da San Bulding (李达三楼) and the Shi Dai Building (史带楼). These are used as classrooms for the MBA, IMBA and EMBA programs, as well as offices for the faculty staff. The School of Management has its own library and study areas.

Center for American Studies

The Center for American Studies was established in 1985 and is one of the main research institutions for American studies in China. Other than the large library on the 3rd floor, the CAS also has a multi-functional conference room equipped with simultaneous interpretation devices. Many domestic and international conferences are held here every year.

The unique triangular atrium with the green carpet has also been a distinctive venue for important activities, such as speeches by distinguished guests such as former U.S. Secretary of State Warren Christopher.

University History Museum
The University History Museum is located at the south-west corner of the campus, and daily opening hours are 09:00-11:00 and 13:00-16:00. You can view the drawings and calligraphy works of many Fudan alumni inside the museum.
III. Accommodation

On-Campus Accommodation

Students who wish to apply for on-campus housing must complete the online booking application in advance. The date and time to access the E-booking system will be announced on the iso.fudan.edu.cn webpage and in your admission package. For more information regarding on-campus housing, please visit iso.fudan.edu.cn/house.htm.

*For students on full government scholarships, accommodation is provided for as part of your scholarship. A room in the International Students Dormitory will be reserved for you and you will not need to complete the online booking.

On-Campus Accommodation Fees

The International Students Dormitory consists of the Main Building, Supplementary Building and the Asian Youth Center. The accommodation fees are as follows:

Main Building

- 23 floors
- Typical hotel layout
- Shared kitchen on every floor

Supplementary Building and Asian Youth Center

- 7 floors
- Each floor has 2 apartments, with each apartment containing 4 single rooms, 1 shared living room and 2 bathrooms
- No shared kitchen

Dormitory Facilities

Refrigerator: You may rent a refrigerator from the reception desk in the South lobby of the Main Building. Do rent the refrigerators early as they may run out quickly.

Electricity: When you check-in at the dormitory, the dormitory staff will provide you with an electricity card. You may pay for your electricity usage, according to your needs, at the reception desk. If the electricity fee in your card has been used up, electricity for your room will be cut off automatically.

Washing Machine: At the two ends of every floor in the Main Building (other than the West end of the 1st floor), there are 2 washing machines. The machines can be paid for using coins or Alipay (each use is 4RMB).

In addition, the basement of Supplementary Buildings 1-3, 4-6 and 7-9; Asian Youth Center 1-2 and 3-4 each have 2 washing machines. Each use also costs 4RMB and you may pay using coins or Alipay.

You may also send your laundry to the laundry room in Supplementary Building No.
4 for washing and drying. The opening hours of the laundry room are Mondays to Fridays, 8:30-16:30 and charges may vary according to weight of the laundry.

Dryer: Available in the East end of the 1st floor of the Main Building, 10RMB per use.

Hot Water: Students staying in the Supplementary Buildings will receive a pre-paid water card at the reception desk in the Main Building. The card machine will display the remaining balance of your card during your shower. You can top-up your water card at the reception desk. Do remember to remove the card from the card machine when you are not using the hot water.

Bottled Water Service: You may call 021-55665180 to order pure drinking water (8.5RMB per barrel) or mineral water (10RMB per barrel) to be delivered to your room. Their office is located at the basement of Building no. 23 in the North campus.
Off-Campus Accommodation

There are 2 ways to search for off-campus accommodation:

1) Search online and contact the landlord directly. We recommend the following websites: www.smartshanghai.com
www.roominshanghai.com

2) You may also source for accommodation through property agents, who are also known as 中介 (zhōng jiè). You may wish to take note of rental advertisements displayed near the school. Property agents usually collect a one-time payment of 30-35% of your first month’s rent as commission after the signing of your contract.

Tohee International Student Village

（同和国际留学生村）

5-minutes walking distance from Fudan University North Gate.

Address: 28 Wudong Road (武东路 28 号 2 弄)
Tel: 021-65105187
Website: www.tohee.com

Friendly Reminders:

a. Before signing the contract

• Before signing the contract with the landlord, ensure that the room and the electrical appliances are in good condition. Also, check that the landlord has paid the maintenance fee.

• Check if the landlord has paid the utility bills for the previous month. Keep the bills when you are paying rent, as they will be needed if you have to go to the convenience store to pay your bills every month.

• Check the terms and conditions of your contract. Usually, you will need to make a deposit equivalent to one month’s rent and pay 3 months rent upfront. The contract is usually for 6 months or 1 year. You are entitled to request for an English version of the contract if you cannot read Chinese.

• If you found your apartment through a property agent, check if the commission is a one-time payment (usually 30-35% of the first month’s rent).

b. After signing the contract

- You will need to submit your off-campus registration form (复旦大学外国留学生校外住宿登记表) at the nearest police station. The form can be obtained from Room 106 of the International Students Office (Mondays to Fridays 8:00-11:30, 13:30-17:00).
- Scholarship students may apply for off-campus subsidy.
- Please apply for temporary residence at the police station within 24 hours. You may wish to ask your landlord for the location of the nearest police station. Please remember to bring along a photocopy of the contract and a photocopy of your passport.
IV. Life in Fudan

1. Student ID Card
   a. Your student card will show your photo, name, student type and student number. It is known as a 一卡通 (yī kǎ tōng) and has many different uses. Not only can you use it to pay for meals in the canteen, you can also use it to borrow books at the library and purchase stationery and food at some shops within the campus.
   b. There are 3 ways to top-up your student card. Firstly, you may go to the cash top-up counters at the 1st floors of the Main dining hall and South dining hall. Staff at the counters will help you to top-up your card and you may also check your remaining balance at the counter. These counters have specific opening hours, so be sure to check when the service is available. Secondly, you can top-up using the top-up machine. During the opening hours of the dining halls/canteens, you may use the top-up machines. Do note that the machines only accept the Agricultural Bank of China cards and instructions are only available in Chinese. Thirdly, you can subscribe to the “复旦信息办” (Fudan Information Service) subscription account on WeChat, click “个人信息” (personal information) and then select “一卡通充值” (top-up student card). Please take note when you top-up using WeChat for the first time, you will need to link your bank card and WeChat account.
   c. If you have lost your student card, you may report the loss on www.ecard.fudan.edu.cn. You will need to key in a password and the initial password is the last 6 digits of your passport number (for non-numeric characters, replace with ‘0’). You can then go to the Student ID Management Center (学生卡管理中心) at Room 111 of Building No. 10 (10号楼 111室) to replace your student card. Their contact number is 021-55664868.
2. Campus Information Service

a. Fudan Email

After registration, you will be given a Fudan email (student number@fudan.edu.cn). The initial password is the last 6 digits of your passport number (for non-numeric characters, replace with ‘0’). Please log on to your Fudan email regularly, or set-up automatic forwarding to another email that you use frequently, as your teachers and the International Students Office will prefer to contact you through your school email.

b. On-campus WiFi

WiFi is available throughout the campus. You may choose to connect to iFudanNG.1x or to iFudan.1x and other available networks. For the former, you will need to sign-in on website, whereas for the latter there will be a pop-up window prompting you to sign-in. Your username and ID will be your UIS account and password.

For more information on how to set-up your WiFi connection, please refer to www.ecampus.fudan.edu.cn/2262/list.htm.

c. Unified Identity Service (UIS)

The Unified Identity Service is one of the basic platforms for campus informatization. It can be used to access eLearning, online payment, library resources, WiFi verification, campus information portal (known as portal), course selection, campus services, graduate education management, post-graduation services and the student card website. Please take note: the Email system, student card top-up machines and 日月光华 BBS (Fudan BBS) do not use UIS. The username for UIS is your student number and the initial password is the last 6 digits of your passport number (for non-numeric characters, replace with ‘0’).

d. For more information regarding campus information services, please visit www.ecampus.fudan.edu.cn
3. Student Mini-Marts

There are many mini-marts within the campus, where you may pay using your student card, cash or Alipay.

2. Other ways of purchase

You can purchase your SIM card directly from the official website of these telecom service providers and buy your mobile phones on Amazon.cn, Jing dong(京东) market or other reliable platforms. Remember to keep the 发票 and related receipts for after-sales maintenance and repair services.
VI. On-campus dining

There are 3 big dining halls and 2 small canteens located in Fudan Handan Campus. Both the main dining hall (Danyuan) and North canteen offers Halal & western food. Dining on campus is an economical option, with each meal costing RMB5-30. The dining hall/canteen is divided into several sections selling different kinds of food and each section usually serves the same menu.

Cash is not an accepted in these dining halls/canteens. You must use your Student ID card to pay for your meals. There are 3 ways to top up your Student ID card:

Firstly, you may go to the cash top-up counters at the 1st floors of Main dining hall and South dining hall. Staff at the counters will help you to top-up your card and you may also check your remaining balance at the counter. These counters have specific opening hours, so be sure to check when the service is available. Secondly, you can top-up using the top-up machine. During the opening hours of the canteen, you may use the top-up machines. Do note that the machines only accept the Agricultural Bank of China cards and instructions are only available in Chinese. Thirdly, you can subscribe to the “复旦信息办” (Fudan Information Service) subscription account on WeChat, click “个人信息” (personal information) and then select “一卡通充值” (top-up student card). Please take note when you top-up using WeChat for the first time, you will need to link your bank card and WeChat account.

a. Main Dining hall (Danyuan)
i. Location: Opposite Guanghua Towers, near the East gate

ii. Opening hours: Monday-Sunday
   Breakfast: 6:30–8:00; Lunch: 10:45–13:00; Dinner: 16:30–18:30
   (Breakfast is only provided on the 1st floor, the 2nd & 3rd floors do not provide breakfast)
   Supper: 19:00–21:00

iii. Layout: This dining hall is divided into 3 floors. 1st & 2nd floors are open to all students. A bakery is located in the middle of 1st floor and a section selling western food is located at the east. A section selling Halal food can be found on the 2nd floor as well. The Professors’ Dining Hall is located at the east side of 3rd floor, and there is a restaurant open to all at the north side.

iv. Tips: If you are a vegetarian, this is probably the best dining hall for you as there is a vegetarian stall (towards the left side of the canteen). This dining hall can be really packed during lunchtime as it is located very near to Guanghua Towers (where many lessons are held)

b. North Campus Dining Hall

i. Location: Located within the North Dormitories, near North campus gym and basketball courts

ii. Opening Hours: Monday-Sunday
   Breakfast: 6:30–9:00; Lunch: 10:30–13:00; Dinner: 16:30–19:00
   Supper: 19:00–23:30
   (The first floor and Halal section serves breakfast)
iii. This is the largest dining hall on campus and known to serve the best food. Many international students have their meals here as it is located near the International Students’ Dormitory.

iv. Layout:
There are 2 halls: Main hall and Side hall.
1) Main Hall consists of 2 floors, with a bakery in the middle selling pastries and beverages.
2) Side Hall consists of “We Coffee Club” on the 1st floor and Halal restaurant on the 2nd floor. “We Coffee Club” can be accessed through a separate entrance at the side.

v. Tips: If you like spicy food, the 2nd floor sells Sichuan “麻辣香锅” (Má là xiāng guō). There is also a section selling Korean food, while the Halal section serves freshly prepared noodles. In general, the North Dining Hall serves a large variety of food for your selection.

c. South campus dining hall
i. Location: Located near the South Campus Local students Dormitories
ii. Opening Hours: Monday-Sunday
   Breakfast: 6:30–9:00; Lunch: 10:30–13:00; Dinner: 16:30–19:00
   Supper: 19:00–23:30
iii. Layout: The dining hall consists of 2 floors.
iv. Tip: If you like spicy food, the 2nd floor sells Sichuan “麻辣香锅” (Má là xiāng guō).

d. South canteen
i. Location: Near Teaching building 6
ii. Tip: It is advisable that you head to the dining halls/canteens as early as possible because it is usually very packed during meal times. Here are the timings where the canteen is less crowded:
   Breakfast: Before 7:30; Lunch: 10:30–11:30 or after 12:30; Dinner: 6:30–17:00 or after 17:30
e. Saqi canteen

i. Location: Intersection of Guonian Road and Zhengsu Road

ii. The 1st floor sells Sichuan Cuisine, 2nd and 3rd floor are restaurants. For the restaurant on the 3rd floor, it offers a comfortable dining environment that is usually not crowded and the food is decent.
VII. Transportation

Within the city

Public Transport system in Shanghai is made up of the metro, bus, taxi and train. Most modes of transport can be paid using the Shanghai Public Transportation card.

Shanghai Public Transport Card

The public transport card is very useful and we strongly encourage you to purchase one. It can be used for the metro, bus, taxi and ferries. You can purchase the card at the metro station with RMB20. Top-up services is also available at all stations.
Metro

Shanghai metro is one of the most extensive railway networks in the world. As the metro lines are expanding constantly, it is best to obtain the latest map on www.shmetro.com (Tip: Wikipedia offers the updated map as well)

One ride costs between RMB3-6, depending on the distance you travel. The nearest metro station from Handan Campus is Jiangwan Stadium and Wujiachang Station (Both on Line 10) and Jiangwan Town Station on Line 3.

Be aware that from Monday to Friday, from 7:00-10:30 and 16:00-19:00 (peak hours) the trains tend to be very crowded, do set aside more time for travelling.

Below are the metro lines (as of 2017) including the first and last stop, together with the corresponding colour:

Line 1: Fujin Rd (富锦路) to Xinzhuang (莘庄) (Red)

Line 2: East Xujing (徐泾东) to Pudong International Airport (浦东国际机场)
  *The Maglev fast train to the airport starts at Longyang Rd (龙阳路) (Light Green)

Line 3: Shanghai South Railway Station (上海南站) to North Jiangyang Rd (江杨北路) (Yellow)

Line 4: A circle metro line in co-operation with line 3. It runs from Shanghai Indoor stadium to (上海体育馆) to Yishan Rd (宜山路)(Dark Purple)

Line 5: Minhang Development Zone (闵行开发区) to Xinzhuang (莘庄) (Purple)

Line 6: Gangcheng Rd (港城路) to Oriental Sports Centre (东方体育中心)(Dark Pink) Line 7: Huamu Rd (花木路) to Meilan Lake (美兰湖) (Orange)

Line 8: Shiguang Rd (市光路) to Aerospace Museum (Blue)

Line 9: Songjiang South Railway Station (松江南站) to Middle Yanggao (杨高中路) (Light blue)

Line 10: Xinjiangwancheng (新江湾城) to Longxi Rd (龙溪路) This line then splits. One line to Hangzhong Rd (航中路) the other line to Hongqiao Railway Station (虹桥火车站) It also goes to Hongqiao International Airport T1 (虹桥1号航站楼) & International Airport T2 (虹桥2号航站楼) (Light purple)

Line 11: Luoshan Rd (罗山路) to Jiading Xincheng (嘉定新城) This line then splits. North Jiading (嘉定北) the other line to Anting (安亭) (Brown)

Line 12: Qufu Rd (曲阜路) to Jinhai Rd (金海路) (Bright Green)

Line 13: Jinshajiang Rd (金沙江路) to Jinyun Rd (金运路) (Pink)

Line 16: Luoshan Rd (罗山路) to Dishui Lake (滴水湖) (Turquoise)

Public bus

There are public bus routes throughout Shanghai and each ride generally cost RMB2. For specific directions, you can use Baidu Maps to plan your route. Alternatively, you can download “Shanghai Public Transport (上海公交) mobile app to plan the route.

“武东路政民路” (Wǔ dōng lù zhèng mín lù) is the nearest bus stop from the International Students Dormitory (Turn right after walking out of the North gate, walk for about 100m). You can then take Bus No. 99, 559, 713 or 749 to Wujiaochang.
Taxi

There are many taxi companies in Shanghai. In the day, the starting fare is 14RMB for the first 3 kilometers (including gas fee). There is an addition charge of 2.4RMB per kilometer within 10 kilometers and a charge of 3.6RMB per kilometer beyond 10 kilometers.

Taxi drivers may stop by the roadside to ask if you need a ride. You can also use mobile apps like “滴滴打车” (Didi Dache) to book a taxi, but there may be extra charges during peak hours.

Do not board any cars without the taxi sign as these drivers often ask for exorbitant prices instead of going by the meter.

Do take note that from 23:00-5:00, taxi fares increase by 30%.

Train

There are several types of trains in China, such as the fast train (快车, which start with the letter K), express train (特快, which start with the letter T) and high speed train (高铁, which start with the letter G).

Seats are also split into different levels, such as hard seats, soft seats, hard sleepers and soft sleepers, with different prices.

How to purchase train tickets

As train tickets are often sold out quickly, we recommend that you purchase your tickets ahead of time, especially during the holiday seasons. You may purchase tickets up to 20 days in advance of the date of departure.

- Buy at the railway station
- Buy online: www.12306.cn (official website)

VIII. Healthcare

Insurance

If you are studying in Fudan, you will need to purchase insurance (来华留学生综合保险). Scholarship students do not have to pay for it. When reporting at the start of each semester, please register and pay for the insurance at the Shanghai International Students Service Center located at the South lobby of the main building of the International Students Dormitory. Insurance beyond 3 months costs 400RMB, while insurance for 6 months to a year costs 800RMB. If your medical bills have accumulated to a certain amount, you will be able to receive refunds accordingly.

For more information regarding the insurance package, please check the 2nd item in the Insurance Liability and Claims Guide (《保险责任与理赔指南》) This guide is available on www.lxbx.net in multiple languages.

Tips:

1) When visiting the hospital, remember to bring along your student card, passport and insurance card. Inform the hospital that you have purchased insurance as they may be able to help you.

2) Always keep your medical records, detailed expenditure receipts and examination and laboratory reports as they will come in handy when filing for claims.

3) If you have any other queries, please call 4008105119#1. They provide health consultation services, medical guidance and will be able to explain more about insurance claims.

4) For any other inquiries regarding purchase of insurance, on-campus settlement of claims and other relevant matters, you can also contact the Shanghai International Students Service center at 021-55076825.

IX. Safety

The Chinese government is responsible for the safety and security of all residents and travellers in China. Any problems should be reported to the local police.

Tips

1) Please take care of your valuables. Be mindful of your surroundings, especially when you are at popular tourist destinations, airports, train stations and crowded areas such as on the metro or in shopping malls. Watch your back pockets, backpacks, bags/purses and be more careful when exiting vehicles or entering shops.

2) Illegal drugs are banned by the authorities. Internationalers found with these illegal drugs will be charged.

3) When taking taxi or purchasing items, please bring cash with lower denominations. If you have cash with higher denominations, please take care of it.

4) Be careful and watch your backpacks, wallets and laptops in classrooms, libraries and other public areas. When leaving your seat, bring along your valuables.

5) Please do not follow strangers to unfamiliar places.

Traveling

If you are traveling, make sure that you know the contact details of a friend or teacher to contact in an emergency. Inform others, such as your friends, roommates or teachers, before leaving and avoid traveling alone or at night. Do research on your destination and make sure that it is safe for Internationalers.

Public Areas

Always ask for receipts (发票, Fā piào). For example, ask for a receipt when taking a taxi, so that you can contact the driver or the company in case you have left something in the car; When leaving the vehicle, ensure that you have all your belongings with you. Remember to photocopy your passport, and bring the copy of your passport instead of the original whenever possible.
Traffic Safety

Please be mindful of traffic safety. When crossing roads, pay attention to the traffic lights and check that the cars have come to a stop before crossing.

Please be careful when taking the escalators.

X. International Student Associations

To date, there are 18 officially registered international student associations. Below, we introduce the vibrant culture of these societies, their many remarkable achievements and their wonderful highlights of the past year.

Fudan Russian Club (FRC)

Fiery passion – one of the distinguishing hallmarks of Russians. In addition to their big-hearted and candid personalities that leave one with a deep impression, the Fudan Russian Club in Fudan never fail to impress with their unique charisma. They bring with them a whirlwind of Siberian passion into the Fudan campus, giving students and teachers alike a glimpse of the warmth that accompanies the harsh cold of the Far North.

Through a series of exciting and entertaining activities, we aim to unite all the Russian international students living in Shanghai and enrich their extracurricular life. At the same time, we also aim to introduce Russian culture to the masses and help other Internationalers to appreciate the charm of our culture.

Japanese Student Association (JSA)

Hailing from the neighbouring country of Japan, the Japanese international students occupy a significant percentage of all the international students in Fudan.
Their energetic and lively presence can be found in every facet of campus life, which in turn facilitates Sino-Japan cross-cultural communication. Since its inception, the Japanese Student Association has strived to organise club activities that are both meaningful and fun, showcasing our country’s culture and at the same time also enlivening the campus atmosphere, thereby increasing mutual understanding between local and Japanese students. Their diligent organisation of club activities such as freshmen orientation, Sino-Japan student exchange sessions and Halloween movie screenings has helped to build a bridge between local Chinese and Japanese students in Fudan to learn together, increasing their mutual understanding and appreciation for each other.

Thai Fudan Association (TFA)
Elephants, tom yum, muay thai; perhaps this is our impression of Thailand. Radiant smiles, vivid costumes and traditional festival customs; this is the portrayal of Thailand by the Thailand Fudan Association. Similar to how Thailand exhibits its unique charm to the rest of the world, the Thai Fudan Association is also a society with its own unique flair and energy. In addition to actively participating in various activities involving local and international students organised by different school organisations, they also play a part in organising activities during international holidays and Thailand’s traditional holidays, including the Festival of Lights (Loy Krathong), Thai food festival, movie sharing etc. Through these activities, we catch a glimpse of a different side of Thailand that is so much more realistic and vibrant.

Another highlight of their club activities are the Thai-style lunches that they organise, allowing students a place for unbridled conversation amidst a light-hearted mood, picturesque scenery and great food. These conversations in turn break down barriers and bring everyone closer together, fostering a deeper sense of friendship within their tightly-knit student community.

Vietnamese Student Association
The Vietnamese Students Association provides a platform for Vietnamese international students in Fudan to communicate and help each other out; in addition their experience serves them well in participating and organising different school-wide activities. The warmth, enthusiasm and unity of the Vietnamese students underscore the excellent reputation that they enjoy in school. Internally, Vietnamese students also live together harmoniously, not unlike a closely-knit and loving family. Externally, they are always eager to lend a helping hand, get along well with local Chinese students, and are excellent friends that will study and grow together with you.
The Garden City, a world-famous reputation afforded Singapore; similarly, the Fudan Singapore Student Association is like an exquisite and vibrant flower abloom in the metaphorical garden of Fudan, standing out with its many excellent qualities. In order to create a home away from home for all Singaporean students in Fudan, FUSSA strives to be the bridge of communication between the Singaporean students coming to Fudan on exchange or to study and the local students and teachers. Throughout the academic year, they will organise a series of activities for all the Singaporean students; in particular, the pre-departure dinner is one of their many highlights. The aim of the pre-departure dinner is to allow incoming Fudan Singaporean students to get to know the academic rigour and living conditions in Fudan beforehand, so that they can feel included in a warm extended Singapore family even when overseas. Through their actions, the students that hail from the Lion City consistently demonstrate to their teachers an unmatched resilience and genuine warmth for other people.
Fudan Indonesian Student Organization (FISO)

As the first stop in the Maritime Silk Road as well as a strategic partner country in the Belt and Road Initiative, Indonesia’s influence on China and the rest of the world continues to grow. As the bridge of communication between the school and Indonesian students, the Fudan Indonesian Student Organisation is dedicated to helping Indonesian students resolve any problems they might face in their studies, extracurricular life, adjusting to new cultures etc. as well as fostering a greater sense of friendship between local and Indonesian students, thus promoting a deeper appreciation for Indonesia’s history, traditions and culture. During “Indonesia Day” in 2015, Indonesia’s delectable cuisine and picturesque scenery wowed students and teachers alike. FISO strives to build relationships between the Indonesian students in school by organising relevant activities, greatly enriching their members’ university life, leading to deeper bonds of friendship and encouraging members to study hard.
Korean Student’s Union of Fudan University (KOSUFU)

As the international student society boasting the longest history, KOSUFU’s core mission throughout the years has been to deepen the sense of cohesion between Korean students and to promote cultural exchanges between local and international students in Fudan. One of their enduring legacy activities is “Breakfast Day”. Be it a sweltering spring morning, fiery summer afternoon, warm autumn evening or snowy winter night, the exco will help to prepare a hearty breakfast for the students who are up early for their morning reading. It also gives them a chance to share about their studies and life, to encourage one another and improve together. Other traditional cultural activities that the society organises, such as Reading Day and welcome parties for new students, remain popular amongst its members, encouraging a nurturing and self-disciplined Korean student community.
Malaysian in Fudan (MIF)

Malaysian in Fudan is an international student society with a robust organisational structure and a friendly student community. They take pride in our strong sense of team spirit and social responsibility. Not only have they successfully organised numerous activities that display the uniqueness of our country, such as food festivals and graduation parties, etc. they also participated alongside other local and international students in events such as spring trips, movie sharings and the Fudan International Students’ Chinese Debate Competition, even managing to achieve significant results in several competitions.

In order to integrate even further into society in Fudan and Shanghai, Malaysian in Fudan has also specially organised activities involving both local and international students, including athletics meets, Mid-Autumn Festival events, color guard, overnight cycling trips to The Bund, International Cultural Festival etc. As they adapt to life in Fudan happily, they have also left a lasting impression on students and teachers alike: as an all-rounded, hardworking, passionate and a serious student community.
Fudan Mongolian Student’s Union (FMSU)

Although a small organisation with only around 10 Mongolian students, the Fudan Mongolian Students Union is a warm and inviting student community. They diligently arrange and manage club activities and are constantly involved in the lives of all their members. FMSU will also meet regularly for discussions, and participate in large-scale activities like day trips to Shanghai and New Year parties etc. They keep in close contact with each other and often meet up to share about life in school and any difficulties they might face in their studies, giving each other mutual advice and support.
Kazakhstan Student Union (K.S.U)

KSU’s cheery and upbeat outlook on life adds a brilliant and vivid stroke to the canvas of the campus life of international students. Their main activities include organising recreational and sports activities, dance programs and welcome picnics, with the goal of fostering a greater sense of cohesion between Kazakh students, as well as cross-cultural communication with local Chinese students.
Professional International Students Association

Fudan’s embrace of a liberal environment has cultivated the entrepreneurial and adventurous spirit of international students, paving the way for the establishment of entrepreneurship conducted by international students, culminating in many successful business entrepreneurs that are former international student alumni or current student representatives. American and European students in particular stand out for their financial acumen and foresight, which led to some of them founding the Professional International Students’ Association, with a particular focus on employment and entrepreneurship for international students. Under new policies encouraging international student entrepreneurship, limitless imagination and ideas for development are no longer confined to the classroom, adding vibrancy and energy to the Fudan campus.
Fudan Lao Students Union

The international students from Laos provide a platform to exchange and develop for all the Lao students in Shanghai, through organisation of recreational and sports activities and collaborations with other international student associations.
Fudan International Medical Students Association (FIMSO)

Are you an International Medical Student at Fudan? Then join their Organization – FIMSO! They act as a bridge between university administration, professors, and students. They consist of several committees, each with a specific role. Social Committee hosts large events such as the Freshman Welcoming Party, The Annual MedBall, FIMSOlympics and Movie Nights. Through events such as these, their students have a chance to get to know their peers and build stronger bonds. Academic Committee is responsible for organizing tutorials in challenging subjects, inviting senior students to talk about their experience in hospital rotations or overseas licensure exam-taking, while Professional Committee hosts talks by professors and working professionals on medically related topics. Students who are interested in volunteering can work together with the Philanthropy Committee to engage in soul-enriching experiences in the Shanghai community such as participating in the Children Hospital Halloween visits, organizing fundraisers for the Heart 2 Heart (H2H) Charity Foundation and Shazam Game Night. With several committees catering to the specific needs of students’ academic and extracurricular interests, FIMSO provides students with the tools necessary to succeed both inside and outside of class, but most importantly - to assist in paving the road to their future medical career.
International Dormitory Committee (FDC)

Members of the International Dormitory Committee strive to provide international students living in Fudan’s International Students Dormitory with high quality management and heartfelt service, working to improve the facilities of the International students’ dormitories, thereby creating a better, safe and superior living and studying environment for everyone.
Asian Youth Center

Through generous investment from famous business entrepreneur, educational philanthropist and member of the Fudan school board Mr. Cao Qiyong, the Asian Youth Centre was constructed with the aim of promoting mutual understanding and friendly interaction between Asian students, and to nurture the Asian leaders of tomorrow through international exchange programs.

Fudan Asian Youth Centre has adopted a mixed accommodation program where local Chinese students and Asian international students live together, on top of which diverse and enriching cultural exchange activities encourage students from all across Asia to live and grow together. Over the past year, under the leadership and organisation of the Asian Youth Centre Committee, we have organised large-scale activities like Mid-Autumn Festival activities, icebreaker activities, Hanami @ Gucun Park in collaboration with Jiaotong University, pottery workshops, Korean culture festival etc. We have also arranged for weekly workshops such as boxing lessons, Korean language lessons and guitar lessons. As students from AYC, we strive to embrace the values of openness, diversity and exchange, in the process making AYC an even better platform for cultural exchange to take place.

In the future, Fudan AYC will continue to roll out programs as planned, and will continue to welcome both local and international students keen for global exchange into our extended family!
Scuba diving society

As university students with pioneering and entrepreneurship spirits, they have set their sights beyond the land and towards the oceans. The scuba diving society is a platform that was set up for students who love diving and sharing their underwater experiences. The process of exchanging experiences between scuba enthusiasts is very important and is practiced in this club. This platform can make it more convenient for students to get in touch with peers, and relatively reduce the chance of blindly communicating with related platforms outside the school, protecting students' personal and property safety.

Scuba diving society also promotes the popularization of diving. Scuba diving is a popular leisure sport around the rest of the world, however it is not as popular in China. Learning scuba diving at the student stage, is not only for the enrichment of extracurricular, but more importantly, it helps to expand student's vision and improve their comprehensive quality.

Scuba diving society also took upon the mission of promoting marine environmental protection. One of the important reasons why diving is not popular in China is because Chinese students have limited opportunities for scuba diving and ocean exploration. With the development of various marine commercial activities, the level of damage to the global marine environment cannot be denied. Therefore, it is necessary to cultivate the awareness of marine environmental protection among students, and to encourage their contribution to environmental protection, and to cultivate the dedication of students towards environmental protection.
